

Joint Communiqué

District, OTA and CSEA bargaining teams

The bargaining teams are working hard to figure out how to close the significant gap between declining revenues from the state and federal governments and the expenses. They have developed many options and are analyzing the potential savings, feasibility and effect on students and staff of each option. They make final decisions on what to recommends at their next meeting on May 10 & 11.

No other decisions, such as moving classes between sites, have been made. The District will inform the associations and District employees as soon as such decisions are made. Until you receive an official communication from the Superintendent, the OTA President or the CSEA President, realize that any other communication you may receive or rumors you may hear have not been verified and may be inaccurate.
